Suppl. Figure S3. An expanded view of the right section of the FLIP curve on the array of kB sites (Figure 2E) shows the magnitude of the experimental error (bars). In particular, the error is still small in relation to the average measure, even at low fluorescence intensities.